Ql
Cont.

content of tags. The system can determine tag angular position with respect to the base station. Multiple base stations can be employed to determine absolute position of tags. The tags can be passive, can have internal power supplies to power data broadcast elements. A mix of powered and passive tags can be used.